Present perfect continuous and simple (I have been doing and I have done)

Study this example situation:

Kate's clothes are covered in paint. She has been painting the ceiling.

Has been painting is the present perfect continuous.

We are interested in the activity. It does not matter whether something has been finished or not. In this example, the activity (painting the ceiling) has not been finished.

The ceiling was white. Now it is red. She has painted the ceiling.

Has painted is the present perfect simple.

Here, the important thing is that something has been finished. Has painted is a completed action. We are interested in the result of the activity (the painted ceiling), not the activity itself.

□ Somebody has eaten all my chocolates.

□ Where's the book I gave you? What

□ The car is OK again now. I've repaired it.

The box is empty.

have you done with it?

□ Have you ever played tennis?

Compare these examples:

- □ My hands are very dirty. I've been repairing the car.
- □ Joe has been eating too much recently. He should eat less.
- □ It's nice to see you again. What have you been doing since we last met?
- □ Where have you been? Have you been playing tennis?

We use the continuous to say how long (for an activity that is still happening): We use the simple to say how much, how many or how many times (for completed

- □ How long have you been reading that book?
- □ Lisa is still writing letters. She's been writing letters all day.
- They've been playing tennis since 2 o'clock.
- □ I'm learning Spanish, but I haven't been learning it very long.

We use the simple to say how much, how

- actions):
 - □ How much of that book have you read?
 - Lisa has written ten letters today.
 - □ They've played tennis three times this week.
 - I'm learning Spanish, but I haven't learnt very much yet.
- Some verbs (for example, know/like/believe) are not normally used in the continuous: I've known about it for a long time. (not I've been knowing)

For a list of these verbs, see Unit 4A. But note that you can use want and mean in the present perfect continuous:

□ I've been meaning to phone Jane, but I keep forgetting.
